M: Good evening, Mrs. Jones. I'm from room service. The manager sends you roses and wishes for your wedding anniversary.

W: Thank you! It's so considerate of him to take care of these details. We are pleased with our room and service.

M: Glad to hear that. Can I help you with anything else?

W: Yes. We'd like to order breakfast in our room tomorrow morning.

M: We have Chinese, French and American breakfasts. Which do you prefer?

W: The American one, please. Please send it at 8 o'clock.

M: No problem. I'll note it down and forward the order to the kitchen.

W: Thanks a lot.

M: You're welcome.
