

Listening Transcript Set 3 Passage 9

M: I see more new energy cars around our city now.

W: Definitely! But they are not very common in some foreign countries because people there still have doubts on the technology and charging stations are hard to find.

M: That makes sense. New energy vehicles need time to be accepted.

W: Luckily, our country has set up charging stations everywhere early.

M: I hope more countries can follow suit. We need a world with less pollution from vehicles.

W: Me too. I take the subway or walk to work every day; it's convenient and eco-friendly.

M: That's nice. I usually drive here myself, so I often get stuck in busy traffic.

W: Maybe you can try public transport too. Well, I have to type these meeting notes right now.

M: See you later.
