M: So Jenny, how many A's did you get in the tests last week? I only got two...

W: Three: geography, chemistry and P. E. I nearly got another two for physics and drama, though.

M: Wow, well done! My performance wasn't great, and now my parents don't think I deserve a trip to New Zealand.

W: You're joking! You've already bought so many things for the journey. What are you going to do with them? And how are you going to spend the summer then?

M: I have no idea. It seems to be a boring summer. But at least I have been invited by Paul to play with him. There is a big swimming pool at his house.
